The Texas Workforce Commission will release October 2025 establishment survey data, i.e. job counts, together with November 2025 jobs data on January 9, 2026. Household survey data, on which unemployment statistics including unemployment rates are based, were not collected for October 2025 due to a lapse in appropriations and will not be collected retroactively. The unemployment statistics series will resume beginning with November 2025 data which will also release on January 9, 2026.
